This appealing end barn conversion offers spacious and versatile accommodation arranged over two floors. The property combines the scale and character associated with a traditional agricultural building with a comfortable, well-appointed interior suited to modern family life.

The exterior displays an attractive blend of brick and stone elevations beneath a slate roof, while the courtyard setting creates a welcoming approach to the property.

A particularly striking feature of the accommodation is the impressive full-height reception space, where a large arched window allows natural light to flood the interior. The vaulted ceiling, exposed brickwork and galleried landing contribute to the sense of space and provide a memorable focal point to the home.

The ground floor offers a choice of well-proportioned living and entertaining areas, providing flexibility for both everyday family use and more formal occasions. The kitchen is fitted with an extensive range of cabinetry, quartz work surfaces and a central island, together with Neff integrated appliances. A separate utility room and ground-floor cloakroom provide additional practicality.

The first-floor accommodation is arranged around the galleried landing and includes four generously proportioned bedrooms. Vaulted ceilings, exposed timbers and rooflights continue the barn's character throughout, while the bedroom and bathroom accommodation has been finished to a high standard.

Externally, the property enjoys an attractive landscaped garden with a broad lawn, established borders and extensive Indian-stone paved terraces. The garden provides a choice of seating and entertaining areas and enjoys an open outlook across the surrounding countryside.

A timber summerhouse with light and power offers useful additional space for relaxation, hobbies or home working. The property also benefits from garaging, courtyard parking, LPG-fired heating and private drainage.
